

WXPR is small community licensee in a rural area of northern Wisconsin. 1. With our small staff and limited capital budget, the idea of archiving 24 hours a day, and keeping the recordings for 60 or 90 days, is not worth the effort. 2. Programming indecency is supposed to be complaint driven. By making broadcasters archive every moment of every day, FCC is taking a "guilty until proven otherwise" approach. I strongly disagree with the philosophy behind the policy.
